

How can you reduce your costs and still be innovative?

A new development pathway

Partnering with an expert development company can improve your resources, save time and save money. Resourcing new developments are tough but with Baat Medical the development expenditure can become a variable cost, increasing and decreasing according to activity. This provides you with ultimate flexibility and enables you to react quickly to changes in the market place.

Connecting innovation to the future needs of your customers is essential to stay competitive. BAAT invests in the latest technologies and manufacturing processes. Which provides our partners with the latest technology with the lowest cost without having to make significant investments. This cost saving enables you to spend on innovation and reduce your cost of goods.

We also provide supply chain control and maintenance of the DMR and design dossier. This simplifies the complexity of the CE process and the European market opening up new opportunities for your company.

Baat can act as the legal manufacturer of your products.

Creating new products together: assisting you all the way

About BAAT

Baat Medical was founded in 1999 by Gert Nijenbanning after finishing his PhD thesis on scoliosis correction. In the first period BAAT provided general engineering services for the medical devices market. Soon after the start, Arthur Aalsma joined the company and from that time on we specialized in orthopedic product development.

The company has now grown to 30 employees and offers a complete service package, from Market Mapping & Concept generation, development and supply chain management. BAAT has set up a state-of-the-art quality management system, warehouse, testing facilities and full engineering & design procedures are in place.

Our customers range from Multi-National Orthopedic giants to independent distributors that want to have their own portfolio and everything in between.

F. Hazemeijerstraat 800
7555 RJ Hengelo
The Netherlands

+31-(0)88-56 56 600
info@baatmedical.com
www.baatmedical.com

Our services

Concept generation
Market mapping

Design & Engineering
Sterile Packaging
Verification & Validation
CE mark & FDA approval

Product delivery
Supply chain management
Legal manufacturer

We are looking forward to create your new product!