- Performing change control on technical documentation (drawings, 3d-models, process specs, labels, instructions, etc.) including impact assessments.
- Implementing product and production process improvements.
- Investigating non-conforming products and production processes, aimed on solving product or production process issues. Also with eye for structural improvements and prevention.
- Being all-round supportive to the BAAT Operations team, helping colleagues, satisfying BAAT's customers.
- Providing input to the BAAT product development team, from a productional, functional, and operational perspective.

Knowledge and experience

- Bachelor + level
- Preferably 3-5 years working experience in technical (medical) field
- Structured and analytical
- Being able to work with an ERP-system
- Can work with excel, word, etc.
- Functional use of the English language - both in writing and vocally - required.

Personal attitude

- Motivated to improve yourself, the team, and BAAT as a whole
- Positive basic attitude, with the aim on solving things
- Pro-actively supportive to colleagues
- Hands-on mentality, enjoying speed and accuracy
- Wide interest, motivated to learn new things - also outside the fields of your background knowledge

Conditions

32-40 hours per week; salary conform market standards
